

Deploying Apple in education

Apple Tools for IT and Deployment

The Device Enrolment Program (DEP) is a part of the Apple Deployment Programs (ADP), which help businesses and education institutions easily deploy and configure iOS and Mac OS devices. DEP provides a fast, streamlined way to deploy organisation-owned iPad and iPhone devices and Mac computers.

Device enrolment enables IT organisations to automate Mobile Device Management (MDM) enrolment wirelessly as part of the setup process — all without physically touching or prepping the devices before users receive them.

User preference is driving organizational preference, and that preference for many is Apple. With your business or school using Apple technology to transform the way employees work or students learn, you need a solution that makes managing Apple devices as simple as using them.

IRIS has partnered with Apple MDM provider JAMF. We work with Education and Business customers to provide training and support on new deployments or adding Apple devices into your existing infrastructure and have completed multiple deployments with over 400 devices being managed with the JAMF MDM platform.
